Eligibility, return steps, fees, and inspection outcomes

QUICK ANSWER

Most items may be returned within 30 calendar days of delivery for a refund. Products must be unused, unwashed, and complete with original tags, accessories, and packaging.

1. Eligible returns

- The 30-day window begins on the carrier-confirmed delivery date. Proof of purchase is required.
- Shoes must be tried on indoors. Electronics must include serial-matched components, manuals, and accessories.
- Bundled products must be returned as a complete bundle. Promotional gifts must also be returned or their value may be deducted.

2. Start and send a return

- Open Orders > View order > Return item, select the reason and refund method, then download the label or QR code.
- Package the item securely and remove old shipping labels. Keep the carrier receipt until the refund is complete.
- The first eligible return from an order is free. Additional convenience returns from the same order have a $6.95 label fee deducted from the refund.

3. Refund review

- Return packages must receive a carrier scan within 7 calendar days of authorization.
- Inspection normally takes up to 2 business days after arrival. Accepted refunds are issued to the original payment method in 1-2 business days.
- Used, incomplete, or different items may receive a reduced refund or be rejected. Support will email the reason and available next steps.

4. Non-returnable and problem items

- Final-sale goods, personalized products, gift cards, opened hygiene products, perishable goods, and seller-managed marketplace items are non-returnable unless defective.
- Report damaged, defective, incorrect, or missing items within 48 hours of delivery. Include clear photos of the item, packaging, and shipping label.
- Approved product-problem returns have no label fee and include any original shipping charge attributable to the item.
